ENTERTAINMENT.

The entertainment given at the Town Hall, Friday evening of last week by Prof. Miller was attended by a very small audience, few more than fifty persons being present. Although parts of the program may have been deserving of a large audience. As a whole it was not quite up to what was expected. The card tricks performed by the Professor were very interesting and were mostly original with him, but the spiritual performances were a poor showing and were easily understood by the audience. From the small audience present we should judge that the affair was not a financial success.

NEW HAIR DRESSING ROOM.

Mr. Thomas McGrath who for the past three weeks has been in charge of the hair dressing room at Smith's Hotel, thinking he could do better by opening a room in some other locality, has taken the room in the rear of N. Bates' periodical store on Elm street, which he has fitted up in a neat and tasty manner. Mr. McGrath comes well recommended as a quick and good workman and is well spoken of by those who have already given him a trial in his new quarters, and as a first class hair dressing room has long been needed in town we hope that he may be successful. Mr. McGrath will make a specialty of ladies' and children's hair cutting and shampooing, and hair dyeing in all its branches, and those wishing work done will do well to give him a call.

COHASSET GENTLEMAN HONORED.

The "Tremont" orchestra of Boston, (8 pieces) furnished music for the first of a series of assemblies, to be given by the young people of Wollaston, at that place last week Friday evening. This orchestra is under the direction of Mr. E. N. Bates of this place with Mr. J. L. Morey as first violinist. The music gave the best of satisfaction to all present and all enjoyed a pleasant evening and the managers report a financial success. During the evening Mr. Bates and Mr. Morey were each presented with an elegant bouquet, presentation speeches being made by Mr. Wm. H. Roche, and the recipients responded in their usual pleasing manner.

FIRE.

A slight fire in the house owned by Mr. James Sweeney near "Cove Bridge" created considerable excitement for a short time Tuesday morning. The fire originated from a wood box which was standing between the stove and the plastering, catching from the stove and communicating the fire to the plastering. The fire was extinguished by members of the Hook and Ladder Co., assisted by a number of citizens and laborers who were near by at the time, without a general alarm. Had it got beyond control a large fire would undoubtedly have been the result as the building is in close proximity with a number of old buildings which would certainly have gone had the fire got underway in their midst.

MARRIED.

In Scituate, Oct. 10, by Rev. Nathaniel Butler, Jr., Frank Wesley George and Miss Lillian C. Chapin, daughter of Hiram Chapin.

DIED.

In Hyde Park, Conn., on Monday, Oct. 8, at the residence of Mrs. J. J. Butler, formerly of Scituate, by dysentery.

INDEPENDENCE ENGINE CO.

At the regular monthly meeting of this company held at Engine Hall last Saturday evening, the names of Frank M. Berrington, George P. Tower and George B. Mays, were proposed for membership by H. W. Souther, and by vote of the company were accepted. No other business of importance was transacted, and the meeting adjourned till the first Saturday in November.

BITTEN BY A DOG.

Lawrence, son of Mr. Chas. Willard, of this place, was badly bitten last Saturday by a dog belonging to Mr. H. W. Souther. The dog was chained in Mr. Souther's yard, and the boy, with a number of others, ran through the yard, and the dog probably thinking they were tormenting him, ran, broke his chain and bit the Willard boy on the arm, making an ugly wound. Immediately on hearing of the affair Mr. Souther ordered the dog killed in order that no more harm should come from him.

A good story is told of one of our Cohasset gentlemen who recently went abroad. While visiting Paris he one day wished to take a walk and see the sights. Not knowing the way and being unable to speak French the proprietor of the hotel where he was stopping kindly gave him a card written in the native language, explaining that the bearer wished to learn the way about, which he could show to any person he might meet. Our friend started and after going a little distance wisely directed and passed his card to the first gentleman whom he met. The gentleman looked at the card awhile and then suddenly exclaimed: "I can't read that stuff," and started off. He was an American.

SCITUATE.

Splendid moonlight just now.

Are we to have a course of lectures this winter?

Henry Litchfield is now driving Hylands' Express.

Mr. H. L. Jackson returned to his home this week.

Mr. Everett Torrey and family returned to Charlestown last week.

The Methodist now hold their Tuesday evening meetings at Union Hall.

Mr. Wm. Trainor and family are spending a portion of this week at their cottage.

Mr. Joseph Richardson and daughter, of Newburyport, are visiting Mr. Wm. P. Richardson.

Change of time on the Old Colony, Oct. 15. See corrected time table in another column.

Mr. S. A. Morley sells his stock of groceries at the Centre at Auction Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Loring and daughter have been making a visit to Mr. Albert Briggs.

Mr. Robert Hall had an attack of apoplexy on Friday last, but is now again, apparently all right.

A number of the young men of the Harbor village have fitted up one of the rooms over Chubbuck & Co.'s store as a club room.

Mr. J. H. Collamore, his niece Miss M. L. H. Collamore also, his nephew Mr. G. F. Collamore, have left their farm for their winter residence in Boston.

Miss Sarah Welch was taken sick last week, and it was thought she would have typhoid fever, but we are glad to say she was only threatened with it, and expects to be out soon.

Our sick ones. Mr. E. H. Bonney is out and attending to his business. George Brown is fast gaining strength and is out every day. Mrs. Frye is slowly recovering, although she is yet very weak.

In our article last week in reference to views of Scituate, it should have read (Messrs. Barker and Merritt). They have recently photographed "the pond and the mill that stood by it," of Old Oak Buckle lane, which are very handsome.

The Plymouth and May Unitarian Conference at Duxbury, on Thursday last, was very largely attended by delegates from Scituate and Marshfield. Among the papers read was one on "Woman's work by Miss Devereux of Green Harbor."

The Fifteenth Convention of the Plymouth County Teachers' Association will be held at the Town Hall, Haverhill, on Friday, Oct. 19. The usual free return tickets will be granted on the Old Colony and Haverhill branch railroads. An interesting program is being prepared, and the officers are doing their utmost to make the convention a success.

Mr. Wm. M. Badger, whom we announced a short time ago as having moved into the store formerly occupied by him, opened his drug store last week, and has a new and complete stock of drugs, patent medicines, and other articles which are carefully arranged. Mr. B. intends manufacturing several of his own formulas, such as are advertised in another column. A neat and pretty sign has been erected over the door.

Owing to the large number of scholars in the East Grammar, the committee have decided to take the third class, 23 in number, out and make an intermediate school of it. They have secured one of the rooms in the Saquit Library building in which 24 chairs, 12 desks and two black boards are to be placed. The committee have been fortunate in securing the services of Miss Sarah L. Young, for the teacher. The school begins next Monday.

NORTH SCITUATE.

A well has been sunk at the parsonage.

Mr. Joy K. Gannett is moving his barn and building larger.

Dr. Jos. Sharp and family have left the grounds for their winter home.

Owing to the repairs on G. A. R. Hall, there will be no Post meetings until further notice.

Post 34 have accepted the invitation of Post 98 of Cohasset, to be present at their concert this Friday evening.

Mr. H. A. Seaverns recently put in a new pump and watering trough, for the public convenience, in front of his residence.

Mr. A. A. Seaverns has recently added some blinds to his house. He is fast making this one of the prettiest places about here.

Messrs. H. A. Seaverns & Co., who are agents for the Beatty organ, has an article in reference to Mr. B. in another column, in place of their advertisement.

MATERIALIZING SEANCE.—In bright light, no dark cabinet; messages written by materialized hands, in view of all, and instruments played on by the seer. Brothers at Grand Cottage, No. Scituate, Oct. 17, 18 and 19, 7:30 p. m. Admission, 25 cents.

Editor of Massachusetts Ploughman's Visit to Mound Farm.

A day out on "Mound Farm," in Scituate is one to be remembered for a long time afterward for the pleasure given and received. It was by invitation of the owner of this farm, Dr. J. G. Graves, that we recently embarked on a farm train on the Old Colony Railroad and were speedily transported to the "Raggs" station. We were received at the station with much cordiality by Dr. Graves, who had driven a Black Hawk mare to carry us as speedily as possible to his home. Dr. Graves is a most interesting man, and his home is a most interesting place. He has had many years on the Atlantic coast, in company with some of the leading farmers of the neighborhood, including Charles O. Ellis, the well-known owner of Mound Farm, and Jesse Ball of Scituate, S. P. Barker, and Louis T. Cushing, Esq., we partook of the Doctor's hospitality, and afterward made the tour of his home.

The "Mound Farm," owned and cultivated by Dr. J. G. Graves, is located on Man Hill, in that part of Scituate locally known as "Raggs." It is a fine place, and is celebrated for its grass of corn.
